Curtin University, Australia

"I am new to the Africa market, however from all accounts BCIE is the biggest education agency in the West African region. In a short time they have increased the number of Nigerian students coming to Curtin University. The work of BCIE has been so good that we have made them our exclusive agent in the region with a dedicated Curtin University representative. If you would like to know more about Curtin University and studying in Western Australia – please contact BCIE."

I chose Edith Cowan University (ECU) because of the amazing facilities and the reputation of the teaching staff. I loved the hands-on approach of learning in my course. The ability to breakdown a big problem into multiple smaller ones is an essential skill I developed as part of my course, which has helped me when dealing with highly complex real world problems. My lecturers encouraged us to ask questions and had an open door policy. The feedback and advice that they've provided me has been really helpful to me on both a professional, as well as on a personal level. After completing my Certificate IV in Science and Diploma of Science (Engineering) at ECU, I gained direct entry into Year 2 of my Engineering course at ECU. Kush Shah: Engineering graduate - Edith Cowan University

I just completed my first semester of a Behavioral Science degree. I believe the 40 Week Foundation Program was most worthwhile because it really helped me prepare for university life. The small class sizes enabled me to get to know everyone and feel comfortable in new surroundings. As I did not complete A-Levels in Zimbabwe, it assisted in better preparing me for entry into the Bachelor program by giving the necessary skills required for essay writing, sound study habits and by allowing me to push myself in order to achieve my full potential. I believe a degree in Behavioural Science will give me greater career opportunities in Zimbabwe. Florence Muvandi: Foundation Program - Phoenix Academy

My stay in Perth has been wonderful. The people here are welcoming, kind and warm hearted. Perth is a cosmopolitan city which made me feel part of multicultural web rather than an outsider. The public amenities and infrastructure in Perth are fantastic which makes it easy to move around and get all services one need without much hustle. I chose to study at TAFE because I wanted to do a diploma of engineering in preparation for my bachelor's degree. It is a great college, fun to study at, with friendly students and staff which made me feel at home from the very first day. TAFE also offered me a university pathway which will make it easy for my transition into Edith Cowan University. Stephany Lentoimaga: Diploma of Engineering (Oil and Gas) - TAFE International of Western Australia

All the fears I had prior to my arrival in Perth were quickly melted by the warmth of the people and its breathtaking beauty. Its sceneries are out of this world and so far I was lucky to visit a number of beautiful and incredible places. The University of Western Australia sits right next to the river. Studying there has been an awesome experience. Orientation was thoroughly done, my professors have been so approachable, further facilitating our study experience. I was also involved in different clubs all offering a unique platform to unwind and connect with students from different cultures. I love watching the swans swim in the river. Once I even witnessed an amazing dive by a family of dolphins! Brenda: Masters in Dental Public and Primary Health - University of Western Australia

Why study in the USA?

Study STEM in the USA!

When it comes to university-level education, no other country in the world inspires the academic respect and imagination as the USA. Names such as Harvard, Stanford, Princeton and MIT have become global education brands which have led the way for most of the past century. For international students, the USA is a huge draw card. A qualification from a US university can give you a great advantage when stepping into your career.

What's more? International graduates with a degree in a STEM discipline (science, technology, engineering or mathematics) who wish to gain work experience before returning to their home country have now the opportunity to stay and work in the US for up to three years.

Participating in the US government's Optional Practical Training program (OPT) program gives graduates a significant advantage when looking for permanent employment in the US and abroad.

Due to a skills shortage in the United States, graduates with STEM degrees are in high demand and often receive some of the highest salaries available.

For example, graduates with a Master's degree in Engineering can secure a starting salary of over $70,000!

At Navitas, we are proud to partner with six high-achieving universities offering a wide variety of STEM majors at Bachelor's and Master's level.

Nigeria, Bournemouth
University

I am absolutely satisfied with the exceptional education counseling provided to me at BCIE. To be very honest, I had to do nothing much but gather all of my documents and submit it to my counselor as and when needed, whilst being stress-free about the confidentiality of my documentation. I highly recommend BCIE because of their transparency, honesty and absolutely no hidden hidden costs, of course.

Inyama Miracle
Hertfordshire International
College

I am a student studying with University of Hertfordshire. I was given admission through Hertfordshire International College which is an affiliated college under University of Hertfordshire. A friend recommended BCIE to me and I decided to go through them while trying to gain admission to study in the U.K. BCIE has proven to be a reliable agency with professionalism and competency as their watch ward. They made admission and visa process very easy for me. They are keen to making sure all coming through them meet requirements for admission and visa approval. I will always recommend students who wish to study abroad to go through BCIE.

Obtaining Your Student Visa – The Ultimate Challenge

If you plan to study in the UK you will need a 'Tier 4 (General) Student Visa'. To obtain your visa you will need to score a certain number of points under the 'Points Based System' (PBS) – and in order to score those points you will need to provide evidence of your admission to a recognized British university and as to your financial circumstances.

This is where the expertise of BCIE Ltd comes into play. We have a student visa success rate in excess of 97% – so, as long as you follow our advice throughout, you have a great chance of obtaining your visa first time. In each of our offices we have fully trained visa specialists and they are there to help you.

If you would like to study in Australia the BCIE Ltd team currently has a 100% student visa success rate! Again it's very important that you follow our advice – you will then have an excellent chance of obtaining your visa. Don't leave it long though – it can take up to 6 months to get your visa!

The visa application process.

It is complicated and time consuming – and you may be required to attend an interview. But we have a good working relationship with all of the visa authorities and in this way we keep right up to date.

So –what should you do next to join the BCIE Ltd success story?

It's very easy – just go along to your nearest BCIE Ltd office – our team is there to help you navigate your way to a joyous visa!
